-  Barbara Dawes - @Jo Simpson No problem here perhaps try doing a refresh
-  Katherine Nielsen - You go girl!
-  DeerHaven - I LOVE FAMILY SEARCH!!!!
-  Jo Simpson - Thanks, Carolyn refreshing worked.
-  Mary Culloden - To OGS members don't forget to check out their website for help. They also have videos.
-  Donna Moore - I know about it but don't use it....seems to be the same on Ancestry
-  Libby Klocke - love using the card catalog at Family Search, browsing records that aren't indexed

Gwynn Socolich - Family Search Research Wiki is very helpful in that you can quickly see records date limitations etc.

Jeanne Newstrom - thanks for this program; iive in northwoods of Minnesota; not a newbie; watch regularly

Ceirra Georgia - FS is not the same as Ancestry. It has alot more you just need to use it to learn how to access it

Annette Weiss - Hi from NYC ... not only is there more info online, but due to the pandemic, there are so many more free webinars and meetings across the various genealogy societies!

Mary Hoyer - Lisa have you given a tutorial on Family Search?
Answer: No, not on Elevesens. But I have it on my list. I have written about it on my website and discussed on the podcast.

Gwynn Socolich - Family Search Research WIKI: some pages are incomplete buy you can contribute to make it more complete.

Carolyn Appelbe - @Donna Moore - lots of items at Ancestry that are just a transcription come with an FHL Film # - copy that in Family Search to see the actual document or see it from a FHC or an affiliated library.

Carolyn Scism - Records that I needed that were finally digitized were not available to me. Had to be a member of LDS to see.

Barbara Dawes - FS has many BMD's pages that are missing on Ancestry - a scanning issue I believe

Sian Jones - You can also do inter-library loans of these items via WorldCat

RayleighU3A - Not all digital records at Family Search are viewable because of copyright issues bu many are.

Cindy Suda - wow globe so cool

glenn Alessi - greetings from Parma Italy

glenn Alessi - :)

Mary Culloden - My grandfather emigrated from Cerinvara, Italy.

Alessandra Mencarelli - Hi from Italy!

Jack Duffy - Carolyn Scism: To my knowledge, FamilySearch doesn't restrict online records to LDS members. Some records must be viewed at Family History Centers.

Gayle Porter - I am a family history director and Jack is correct.

AbbySiam - can people change info on there like they can on wikipedia? sorry first time i heard of it so know nothing about it.

Barbara Dawes - @Jack Duffy There are some records from Scotland that even a member of the LDS can't access due to the contracts

Carolyn Scism - Jack and Gayle. I was restricted that way.

Cathy Rissley - any suggestions for free obits other than paying to see more through ancestry

Jack Duffy - And the can't be viewed from Family History Centers?

-  DeerHaven - YES! WATCHING PAGES IS A WONDERFUL TOOL.
-  C Davis - Wiki account different than FamilySearch account?
-  Tootie Gripich - With FHC closed access is denied to non members!
-  Barbara Dawes - @Jack Duffy - correct - I use the FHC all the time (when open) as most of my research is in Scotland
-  Gwynn Socolich - You can search Scottish records for free on Scotland's People for things you cant find of Family Search Wiki
-  Jn Rollins - Thanks for the tips about Watchlists. I wasn't aware of them and I've been using the wiki for years. Like Google Alerts specific to genealogy!
-  Carolyn Appelbe - Cathy - check library of congress Chronicling America for free newspapers; not all papers there but LOC has a list of all that were published in a particular location
-  Cynthia Owens - Is there a free genealogy group that you can post things to see if anyone has knowledge of the document or picture?
-  Rachel Ross - My family is from Macoupin county Illinois as well!
-  Gayle Porter - Our FHC is opened by appointment only so check it out in your area,
-  Carolyn Scism - Jack, I was able to view one time at the Family Histsory Center, but a member had to log me in.
-  Gwynn Socolich - Scotlands people charges for viewing and downloading but you can see search results.
-  Jack Duffy - @Carolyn Scism What kinds of records?
-  Maryann Sezaki - Rachel Ross, what town in Macoupin County? My dad was born and grew up in Staunton. Mom's family moved there when she was 2. I love that little village.
-  Libby Klocke - What a surprise to see Macoupin Co. IL on your screen. I'm the genealogy librarian at the Macoupin County Historical Society. Let me know if I can help with your search for your grandmother.
-  Carolyn Scism - @Jack Duffy German church records. They said it was the agreement with the church.
-  Carolyn Appelbe - Lisa - got a google alert today for a family name and town in Scotland, only it was for a news article today - guess I need to put in the date range!
-  Bailey & Company - Lots of new Wisconsin records are being indexed on FamilySearch right now.
-  Barbara Dawes - @Jack Duffy OPR's you can get the baptism date for free but will miss all the other data - but those are records available at the FHC
-  Maryann Sezaki - Libby Klocke, I'd like to "talk" with you on searching for info regarding Macoupin Co. My great-grandfather was in the Staunton area by 1860. How should I contact you?
-  Gwynn Socolich - Great news on FS Wisconsin records. I have Racine and Palmyra WI ancestors on both sides on moms family.
-  Linda J - My G-Grandfather was a State Legislator in WI 1865. Am working on his story, he was fm La Crosse.

Libby Klocke - the webmail address is mchsgenealogy@yahoo.com

DeerHaven - NOW THAT'S A GENEALOGY GEM.

Gwynn Socolich - @Linda J I have LaCrosse ancestors too.

Linda J - Gwynn, time period?

Christine Oots - To save Google searches, do you have to have gmail address?

ANSWER: You don't have to have a Gmail account to get a free Google account. When you are signed in it should give you the option to have the alert sent to the account associated with your Google account.

elained1946 - Great information

Debra Honor - Christine Oots, you don't need a gmail address.

K M Vaughan - Noticed some google books are purchased by genealogy sites and are no longer free.

Mary Culloden - Many libraries can get you a copy through an archive or another library.

Patriva Mack - Do you have to have a FMP account to access the free stuff?

Family History Fanatics - Yeah, Search operators. Such a search extender.

Susan Don ahue - Good morning - Sorry I am late

Mary Culloden - Great book. I have a copy.

Family History Fanatics - @Linda J how cool!

Family History Fanatics - @Susan Donahue I'm late as well. Good thing there is a replay shorting after she's finished.

Family History Fanatics - My public library is still drive through pick up / drop off online.

Nicole Flora - Allen Co Public Library is open with a mask of course, if anyone needs to know

Shortmom5 - So much good info! Glad for the show notes

Family History Fanatics - @Nicole Flora Good to know. I wish I could get on a plane and get over there.

Gwynn Socolich - Some Universities and Junior Colleges will let you get a community patron library card but they might charge you.

Linda J - Noel? have watched some of your videos, good!

Family History Fanatics - @Linda J Aww... thanks so much. @Lisa Louise Cooke's Genealogy Gems is my mentor and I try to support the industry like she does.

Nicole Flora - @Family History Fanatics- I'm literally across parking lot from it...very hard to work when I'm so close lol

Linda J - FHF Noel. Both of you are GREAT!

Cyndy Bray - I have a few library cards from other places

Family History Fanatics - @Nicole Flora lucky! I'm moving to Los Alamos, NM which is much further a way from any libraries that will help with my research.

Doug Hill - Yes for two other locations, one n MD one in Ohio.

C Davis - Yea I library cards for different cities and states

Family History Fanatics - I'm trying to figure out how to get a library card for Columbus Ohio Public Library system.

Mary Hoyer - Newberry library card in Chicago. I live in the suburbs.

Mary-Jane Roth - Our local library (alexandria VA) has reciprocal card for Fairfax VA, Washington, DC, and Arlington, VA. I have all three

Mary Culloden - Local library will get it in for you if available in area.

Sharon Williams - I have one for a neighboring county and was able to get a new york city library temp card when there researching.

Gwynn Socolich - I have 2 more not in my city. County library system and next town too. In California you have to be California resident to get card. I have had in the past in the Los Angeles public lbrary.

Nicole Flora - Me too, its horrible to only have my lunch hour lol

Family History Fanatics - Yes! Facebook groups are helpful. We just have to be specific on our research questions if we want to have the most success.

Christine Oots - OMG! Lisa, thank you for that tip about using Google to search within a specific site. So helpful!!

Gwynn Socolich - I have received tombstone photos and county records from RAOGK Racine, WI to California. Awesome!

Family History Fanatics - You look so good in turquoise.

Bailey & Company - @Gayle Porter -- I am also a director of a Family History Center. How long has your FHC been open again?

Barbara Dawes - Heard so much I'll have to rewatch

RayleighU3 - AThank you. Some very useful tips. Pete

Karen Tomblin - You reminded me of some things that I haven't checked recently.

Gayle Porter - Bailey & Company: We have been open by appointment onlu since July 30

Carolyn Ender - Yes, it was a firehose of information today! But thank you for sharing!

AbbySiam - will have to watch and listen again

Margaret Silva - Great information

Katherine Nielsen - Lots of public libraries are offering access to Ancestry during Covid. Check out your public library.

Cynthia Owens - I am going to listen again, I need to find the name picture of I have. I also don't do well with finding documents of land records on line (so much to learn)

Karen Martin - I've done over 300 pictures at MyHeritage

Lucinda Lamme - Thank you, Lisa! Can't wait for the show notes.

-  Maryann Sezaki - So much terrific information. Will be watching again, and probably a second time. Glad I'm a Premium member and can also get the show notes.
-  Elisa Eck - great job able to use everything you teach.
-  Mary Culloden - My library lets you check out. They arrange pick up times with book in a paper bag and you make arrangements to returns. All done outside the building.
-  DeerHaven - Another fantastic episode....thank you, Lisa!
-  Patriva Mack - Thank you for another great session!
-  Nicole Flora - @Family History Fanatics I'm new to researching but I would love to help. just let me know
-  Kathy Wiseman - thank you
-  Dana Conway - Thank you so much Lisa!
-  Maryann Sezaki - Thank you, Lisa!
-  Margaret Silva - Thank you!
-  Nicole Flora - Thank you!!
-  M Mynhn - thanks- so interesting
-  Tracey Hall - Once again - so much wonderful information. Thank you Lisa.
-  Shortmom5 - Thank you!
-  Nora Stidham - Thank you for ALL the tips!!!
-  Carolyn Ender - The ancestors are calling but so is my kitchen! Gotta get lunch going!
-  Carolyn Scism - Thank you
-  K M Vaughan - thanks Lisa
-  Carolyn Hennessee - Eleveses is such a Gift to all of us! thanks
-  Doug Hill - Thank you!
-  Kathleen Jordan - thank you wonderful show
-  kimberly muench - Thank you Lisa!
-  Gwynn Socolich - Aaah lost my Roots Magic file...panic time...
-  Diane Leikam - Thank you! Another amazing show!!!
-  Tracey Hall - Have a great big beautiful day everyone
- Kathy Taylor - Great show, as usual!
- Cathy Siegl - Thank you, Lisa.
- Nan Z - Thank you. My first time and I learned a lot!
- Leonard Franklin - Thanks so much for your time and information

Larisa Veselova - Appreciate you!

Karen Tomblin - Thanks lisa!

palomas creek - Great information!

Mark Bell - This was my first Eleveses and I love it!! Thanks Lisa!

RayleighU3A - Thanks again! Pete

Gayle Porter - This is the highlight of my week.

Joyce Walth - Thanks so much! Nice to be back!

Sheryl Tierney - Lots to take in today. Love your show

Betty Ffrench - I can't wait to try out some of the things I learned about today. Thank You!

Carolyn Appelbe - Thank you, Lisa. Another great show.

Cindy Suda - @Karen Martin that rocks! I so need to get going on that, just took out my husband's mother's photo album from 1940s yesterday--looking forward to scanning, MyHeritage all those small b&w prints! :D

Katherine Nielsen - Yes, every library has different online data bases...

Cindy Suda - Lisa, You are AWESOME! I love how you break down things in such logical steps--and wow! What incredible tips today! I'm SO inspired! Bouquets of thanks! <3
