From Lisa: Turns out multi-media content displayed in Google Earth in real-time can't stream successfully. Please see the show notes for screen shots of how the placemarks look when displaying video, images and text.

 Mary Culloden - Her video doesn't render faster. Takes too much time and she isn't going to do that anymore.

 Anne Renwick - So cool that that corner jutting out bit on the house's 2nd floor shows on the old map and is still there now.

DeerHaven - Some great reasons to look at neighbors on Census records is you may find more family members...not sure why she didn't mention that.

From Lisa: That wasn't the focus of this session, but it's a good point. I've found several family members that way.

Mary Culloden - I believe she mentioned if you go to youtube later then watch the show and should see it.

From Lisa: Please visit the show notes to see how videos and images display.

<https://lisalouisecooke.com/elevenses/>

Susan Donahue - Greetings from Rogers, Arkansas

Georgiann Youngstrom - Your property menu is not showing. QUESTION: If I re watch this video later will all the great information be there to see then?

From Lisa: Unfortunately, the videos were unable to render the Google Earth display completely. The hazards of live-streaming and taking a risk 😊 Please visit the show notes to see how videos and images display. <https://lisalouisecooke.com/elevenses/>

Anne Renwick - Ooo - I wonder what the Quarantine building was really for (near the cannery)

Gwynn Socolich - @Anne Renwick My guess is that it had to do with immigration and folks coming into port and medical exams for immigrants like at Ellis Island.

Anne Renwick - Ah. Thanks, Gwynn.
